About Park Avenue

The Park Avenue Storefront Revitalization Project is a creative place-making effort along Park Avenue with Riverside Art Museum's artist-in-residence Juan Navarro, the Riverside Community Health Foundation, the Residents of Eastside Active in Leadership group, and the Resident Leadership Academy. This project focuses on rejuvenating storefronts along Park Avenue in the Eastside to contribute to neighborhood vitality, safety, and economic development. Additional funding from US Bank is making possible an expanded project footprint. These murals were created in hand with the community and have had over 200 local volunteers throughout the project scope. As a community leader, Juan has also been able to include emerging artists, in his social practice art.

Words from the Artist

"Art has an impact on lives no matter what age, class, education level, or beliefs. Through my practice, I have seen how public art unifies communities, tells stories, and creates representation. These large pieces are gifts that beautify our community and belong to all who have the opportunity to experience them."
