RIVERSIDE, Calif. (May 28, 2025) – The Cheech Marin Center for Chicano Art & Culture of the Riverside Art Museum (“The Cheech”) celebrates its third anniversary with the opening of Cheech Collects IV on Saturday, June 7, 2025. With pieces that have never been on display at The Cheech from Cheech Marin’s landmark gift, this fourth iteration of the annual exhibition showcases works of artists collected by Cheech over four decades while debuting recent museum acquisitions by Carlos Almaraz, Jaime Guerrero, and Narsiso Martínez.

“Each edition of Cheech Collects reveals new layers of Chicana creativity,” said Cheech Marin, actor, art advocate, and the center’s namesake. “This year we’re celebrating the subtle power of pastels and welcoming extraordinary new voices into the collection. And, my favorite “Fire Room” remains with one addition, too.”

Exhibition Highlights

- Artist Focus: Works by Wayne Alaniz Healy and David Botello, founders of East Los Streetscapers
- Texas Artists: A look at multi-generational Chicana artists from the Lone Star State reflects the national scope of the Cheech Marin collection and includes works by Ricardo Ruiz; Carlos Donjuán; Cande Aguilar, barrioPOP; and Gaspar Enríquez.
- Fire Room: This visitor favorite features vibrant works by Margaret García, Carlos Almaraz, and Perry Vásquez remains on view as a space for reflection and conversation.
- Pastels: Luminous drawings demonstrate the medium’s expressive range, from delicate portraits to bold, large-scale narratives by Rupert García, Adán Hernández, Leo Limón, John Valadez, Vincent Valdez, and others.
- Sculptures: Selections from the permanent collections such as Once Upon a Time by Jaime Guerrero join three-dimensional works such as ¡Mejico Mexico! by Frank Romero and Dalé Shine by Jesse E. Rodríguez.

“The curation of Cheech Collects IV is a community effort honoring Cheech’s commitment to collecting artists in depth. It features multiple works by individual artists, many of whom he developed relationships with over time,” added María Esther Fernández, Artistic Director of The Cheech. “Each iteration of this yearly exhibition celebrates the depth and richness of Cheech’s gift while introducing new acquisitions that reflect our commitment to amplifying diverse Chicana stories for future generations.”
